Important Information about Medicaid

This Medicaid form is only for pregnant women. The Department of Children and Families will tell you if you are eligible for Medicaid.

- You have the right to apply on the same day you contact the office about the Medicaid program.
- You have the right to receive Medicaid, if you are eligible.
- You must help us determine your eligibility by giving us information or allowing us to obtain it from others, including data matches.
- You must give us complete and correct information on all members of your household at the initial application and every contact.
- You must give us your Social Security Number (SSN) and your citizenship status. SSNs are used by the Department for identity verification, income and eligibility verification and other purposes related to the administration of our programs. You do not have to give us the SSNs or citizenship status of others in your home. If you do provide us with their SSNs, this information will only be used to verify income. SSNs are not shared with the INS. If the SSNs of others are not on the application, you may need to provide proof of their income.
- Your age, creed, disability, marital status, national origin, color, race, sex, religious or political beliefs will not affect your request or service.
- You have the right to appeal any decision made on your case.
- If you misrepresent the truth on purpose, or help someone else to misrepresent the truth on purpose, you can be punished under federal or state law or both. If you get medical assistance for which you do not qualify, you may have to repay the cash value of that assistance. You may also be subject to other civil penalties.
- You must assign your rights to third party payments and cooperate in reporting health insurance coverage.
- You must report all changes as soon as possible, but no later than 10 days after the change.
- You must NOT take part in any misuse of your medical assistance.

Income Limits for Medicaid Assistance for Pregnant Women:

If your household income is less than 185% of the federal poverty level, you may be eligible for Medicaid assistance. To determine your eligibility, we look at your household's gross income and the number of people living in your home (including the unborn child). We allow a standard deduction and certain self-employment costs.

Information we need to process your application:

* A new law requires U.S. citizens to give us proof of citizenship and identity before we can approve your application

1. Proof of your U.S. citizenship (for example, birth certificate) or non-citizen status
2. Proof of identity (for example, driver's license)
3. Proof of pregnancy, including the number of babies expected and the estimated due date
4. Your Social Security number
5. Proof of Florida residency
6. Proof of the last 4 weeks of gross income for all household members
7. Other health insurance coverage, if any

After you are enrolled, the program will cover medical care and hospitalization during your pregnancy through the two months after the pregnancy ends. It may also cover medical bills you received up to three months before your enrollment. There is no cost for this coverage.
